

The Patterson Announcement

¶The Pattersons, long since world famous in the manufacture of pipe smoking tobaccos, resume business under their personal supervision and direction. The long record of the Pattersons as producers of goods of the highest quality is the best guarantee that their tobaccos now produced under the new conditions are of the highest standard.

¶Full weight and the utmost in quality for the money will be their constant aim. Too much stress cannot be laid upon the matter of weight and quality--in buying one of the Patterson products the consumer is assured 100 per cent weight and 100 per cent quality.

¶The Pattersons are the originators of the "non-biting" pipe smoking tobacco as well as many other innovations, and their record for originality will be maintained. In this respect the two new brands of smoking tobacco here announced are unique. Genius and a generation of experience have produced these new brands--the

"WHIP"

In the swell 5c tin of full 1 ounce weight, and the

"QUEED"

In the big tin of full 2 1-2 ounce weight for 10c.

¶These tobaccos are of the best quality, selected leaf, perfectly blended. Mild, smooth, cool--the master achievement in pipe tobacco.

¶To prevent deception and to make the Patterson products distinctive from all other pipe smoking brands on the market, the Patterson combination of colors--apple green, red and white--will be found on all packages.

¶The Patterson policy of over half a century will be continued--a policy of MERIT to win popular favor rather than by coupons, prizes and other devices--a policy of FULL VALUE to the consumer.

GREEN TURTLE CIGARS

3 for 5c

¶The Green Turtle Cigar is already the leading seller wherever introduced. These cigars will still be manufactured under the old organization of the Gordon Cigar and Cheroot Company, Inc., as one of the departments of the Patterson Bros. Tobacco Co., Inc.

¶The two new pipe smoking brands--"WHIP" and "QUEED" just introduced are ready for distribution to the trade and consumers will find them in all first class stores.

DEBT COMMISSIONS MEET AGAIN TO-DAY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, August 11--In the effort to come to an amicable decision regarding the Virginia debt case, commissioners of Virginia and West Virginia will meet here again to-morrow. Two weeks ago these commissioners, after trying vainly to agree upon some plan of adjusting the principal of $7,000,000 and the interest, amounting to $14,000,000 on this debt, adjourned without doing anything, to meet to-morrow.

Serious doubt is expressed here as to whether West Virginia ever will pay any part of this large interest account, and that the matter will go back to the Supreme Court for further investigation, is now not disputed. It is even stated that should the court decide that West Virginia must pay the amount of interest just mentioned or even a very large part of it, it may be many years before payment of the debt is even begun.

It became certain when the two commissions were in session before that the West Virginia people are badly divided upon the subject of interest. It is quite probable that should this feature of the matter be left to them practically no interest would be paid, for the reason that those who believe no interest is due would stand out indefinitely, and thus deadlock further efforts in the matter. Another interesting feature in this connection is the question of which commission shall petition the Supreme Court for further redress in case no decision is reached. Virginia does not feel that she should go into court in the matter, and West Virginia likely will take the same attitude.

AGED LANDMARK IS BLOTTED OUT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Alexandria, Va., August 11--After weathering the storms of a century and a half, the frame cabin known as the "log cabin" situated on the crest of the hill at Mount Ida, Alexandria County, two miles north of this city, was struck by a bolt of lightning and destroyed by fire shortly after 3 o'clock last night.

This house was erected a little more than 150 years ago by Charles Alexander. The city of Alexandria took its name from that family, they being large landowners in that section. To-day all that remains of this historic structure is two towering chimneys standing as sentinels at the top of the hill. The house was owned by Mrs. George Under, of this city, a descendant of that family, and was the oldest house in this section.

COURT CONVENES IN WILLIAMSBURG

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Williamsburg, Va., August 11--Circuit Court for the city of Williamsburg and the County of James City, Judge D. G. Tyler presiding, convened here this morning with an unusually large attendance, there being a number of cases on the docket. The court delivered a strong charge to the grand jury relative to examination of the commissioners' books, merchants' license tax, and the violation of the laws regulating the transportation of persons whose death was caused by contagious disease, and the laws applicable to vagrancy. In charging the jury to investigate cases of vagrancy, the court emphasized the fact that there were hundreds of able-bodied men who loafed the streets and grew fat on idleness, and who could not be hired to do a day's work. The grand jury at the morning session indicted Marion Lee, colored, for the murder of Delaware Brown, and George Robinson for feloniously cutting Samuel Pressy.

Among the well-known lawyers in attendance upon court to-day were M. H. Barnes and T. N. Harris, of New Kent; Garrett & Rhodes, of Richmond; S. O. Bland, of Newport News; P. N. Hubbard, Warlick, and Judge Sydney Smith, of Yorktown.

Court will be in session practically the entire week, and will be a busy term.

BOY DISCOVERS MANGLED BODIES

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Wilmington, N. C., August 11--Walking along the railroad track near Willard, thirty miles from Wilmington, on the Atlantic Coast Line, a small boy discovered the mangled bodies of two young white men, Matthew Garriss, aged twenty, a section hand, and Judson Garriss, aged twenty. The body of the former was cut in two, but there was life left in the latter when found. He was brought to Wilmington, but died shortly afterwards without regaining consciousness. Both men were hit by an outgoing train, but whether they were walking on the track or asleep at the time is not known. The young men were cousins, and lived at Watha, a few miles from Willard.

Mr. Stock Owner do you give your sick animals doped medicines?

Did you ever think of that? Many animals die after treatment with doped medicines which are worse than none at all. An animal with a weak heart or run-down condition cannot stand being drugged. When the reaction sets in they usually die.

You should take as much care in doctoring your stock as you would your family.

Noah's Horse Remedies

are medicines--not dope. Be on the safe side by giving your animals these tested remedies.

Noah's Colic Remedy is recommended for that most dangerous disease, Colic, and is harmless in its effect. Safe to administer--given on the tongue. Cheap in price--50c a bottle, and worth 20c to any stock owner.

Noah's Fever Remedy is a medicine for fever, coughs, colds, distemper, influenza, lung troubles, and the treatment of milk fever in cows. Given on the tongue. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

Noah's Liniment is the best all-round family and stable remedy on the market. Contains no alcohol, chloroform, ammonia, benzine, or poisonous drugs. 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Gallon cans at $6.00.

Noah's Kava-Kava Ointment for fresh cuts, old sores, scratches, collar galls, sore backs, and thrush in horses' feet cannot be beat. 25c per can.

Sold by all dealers in Medicine

Made in Richmond by Noah Remedy Co.

"My stable boss says the Noah Remedies are the best he ever used, especially the Liniment for the cure of sore shoulders. He also endorses your colic remedy as being fine and a sure cure."--T. J. Davis, Sup't State Farm Lassiter, Va.

"I have been using Noah's Remedies on our stock with fine results, and I am determined to hold my own, with the aid of the Mexicans and other rebellious elements."

Four Hours Without a Drink. San Francisco, August 11--San Francisco's saloons were closed for four hours early to-day, marking the first time the liquor traffic has been interfered with by statute. A new State law, which became effective at midnight, makes it illegal to sell, give or deliver liquor between 2 and 6 A. M.

CAMP IS SWEEP BY TWO STORMS

Many Tents Blown Down and Contents Scattered Over Ground.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Winchester, Va., August 11--Two heavy winds and rain storms which struck the United States cavalry instruction camp last night with cyclonic velocity, swept everything in their path. Over sixty tents were blown down and their contents scattered over the grounds.

Lightning was sharp and thunder claps heavy, and the troops had hard work preventing a stampede among horses and mules. Before the first damage could be repaired, another storm broke, blowing down many other tents and frightening horses.

Brigade headquarters heard to-day that about seventy gallons of liquor were being hauled in an automobile into the camp for distribution among the troops, and the stuff was confiscated by order of Colonel C. H. Murray, commanding, immediately upon the automobile's arrival at camp.

Go to Rock Hill, S. C. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., August 11--Prof. J. Thompson Brown, for years headmaster of Brown's University School, this city, has been chosen head of the English department of Winthrop College at Rock Hill, S. C., the largest woman's college in the South.

LOCATES SOURCE OF TYPHOID FEVER

Water Supply of Bristol Is Held Responsible for Outbreak.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Bristol, Va., August 11--Dr. J. A. Waddell, of the Virginia State Health Department, has completed his inspection of the typhoid situation in Bristol. He found about 90 per cent of the typhoid cases in Bristol, Tenn., and probably due to the polluted condition of the Henry Preston spring water, which furnishes a part of the supply for the Tennessee city. He directed that all families should boil water for drinking and domestic purposes, and drink no water from the hydrants under any circumstances. It is proposed to withdraw the water from the Henry Preston spring from the city mains, and depend entirely upon the water from the Frank Preston spring until the situation is better. It is not believed that the fever will become epidemic, if the directions of the health authorities are followed. Cases that have thus far developed are very mild.

Back Broken in 90-Yard Fall. Pittsburgh, Pa., August 11--George Heatherington, aged sixty-four years, to-day fell ninety feet from the top of a smokestack he was painting in McKeesport. His back was broken and he was removed to a hospital in a dying condition.

Odds and Ends From the Wire

MILLION BID FOR BEACH.

But Frick's Mysterious Offer Is Mysteriously Refused.

Boston, August 11--North Shore society is enquiring its bridge to solve the mystery of Archibald Frick's refusal of $1,000,000 offered by Henry Clay Frick in the Frick estate. Inasmuch as the Frick estate is twenty miles from Mr. Frick's eighty-five-room cottage at Plum Cove, the North Shore asks, "Why does he want another beach twenty miles from his home?"

When Frick first came to the North Shore he had to pay the losing estate $10,000 for thirty feet of beach and a right of way to his Eagle Rock.

St. Charlesville, O., August 11--The Republican members of the County Board of Elections would like to acquire the secret of how the board always divides on party lines, each side voting for its candidate. Then, to break the secret, they offered a prize of $100 to the winning side names a clerk. For four consecutive years the Democrats have won.

This year the Democratic Chairman, T. M. Michener, who tossed the coin for three years, turned the job over to another Democratic member of the board, M. Blackburn, and he, too, won.

ETIQUETTE IN HORSES' BURIAL.

Card of Thanks to All Who Assisted Burial.

Bloomington, Pa., August 11--R. F. Battin, of Bloomington, had for years a family horse named "Sailor," who was a very good horse upon the part of the family members was as great as that over the loss of a child. Following his death they inserted in a local paper the following card of thanks, unique among present-day newspaper advertisements, and one that will, nevertheless, touch the heartstrings of lovers of horses:

"We thank the employees of Mrs. J. L. Dillon and for the use of their team, the employees of the Bloomington State Normal School and all others who assisted in the funeral of our pet horse, 'Sailor,' also the friends who expressed regrets for our loss. August 4, 'Sailor' ate his feed at sunrise, was hit by a buggy and at 5:30 fell dead in front of his stall. He was buried in a wagon, hauled one mile and decently buried before 11 o'clock."

LOCKUP HOLDS FAT BOYS ONLY.

Slim Scrubbers Disappear While Turnkey's Back Is Turned.

Lafayette, Pa., August 11--Being skinny has its advantages, as James Barto and George Pious, twelve-year-old boys, discovered. It enabled them to gain liberty from the Lafayette lockup by wedging between bars six inches apart.

Krass fittings have been disappearing from machine shops and other plants. In connection with the robberies Barto and Pious were arrested yesterday and placed in the lockup.

This morning Turnkey William Gibbs opened their cell doors, let them into the corridor and set them to scrubbing the floor. When he returned from dinner Barto and Pious were absent.

Alfred Jenkins and Samuel Spies, who are fat, were still scrubbing.

DEATH SHOCK ROBS OF VOICE.

Husband Two Hours in Faint, Resuscitated a Minute.

Kane, Pa., August 11--The news that his wife, Mrs. Lucy Marquette, died at the Kane Summit Hospital, caused James Marquette to lose his voice. On receiving the news he swooned and fell into a dead faint. After two hours he was resuscitated, but his voice could not respond.

KATY SINGS OF EARLY FROST.

Farmers Now Look for Cold Weather by Mid-September.

Wellsville, O., August 11--The farmers through this section of the Ohio Valley are preparing for an early frost and the harvesting of the crops is being rushed with all possible speed. The cause for the alarm came last week when the katydid was, for the first time this year, heard in the meadows. An old weather legend, which the agriculturists of the section say is infallible, is that continuous cold weather and frost follows the first appearance of the katydid by not more than six weeks.

The insects appeared unusually early this year. They do not usually arrive until the last of August or September 1. Farmers expect the weather to be decidedly chilly by September 15.

Byers--Taylor. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., August 11--Edward T. Byers, of Gannett, S. C., and Miss Lena May Taylor, of Pittsburgh, Pa., were married at the office of the clerk of the corporation Court, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Henry W. Battle, D. D., pastor of the High Street Baptist Church. Mr. Byers is connected with a prominent firm of railroad contractors, and with his bride left immediately after the ceremony for Charleston, W. Va., where his firm has its principal office.

Huffman--Woodward. Dr. Battle also officiated at the marriage of Henry Cleveland Huffman, of Harrisonburg, and Mrs. Nellie Woodward, of this city. A number of friends witnessed the ceremony.

Liquor and Drug Addictions CAN Be Cured

The old idea that those addicted to the excessive use of liquor and drugs were hopeless can no longer be accepted as true. The medical profession, as well as noted scientists, have proven that the habit is nothing more than a form of disease, and, if properly treated, is curable.

We have treated many cases with success. So confident are we that our proposition is--NO CURE, NO PAY. We guarantee a cure or accept no payment for board, room, nurse or treatment. Our record merits your investigation.

DYNAMITE CAP IS FOUND BY BOY

He Uses It for Plaything, and Two Fingers Are Blown Off.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Danville, Va., August 11--Eight-year-old Frank Gillespie was playing in the yard of his home on Poplar Street this morning when he found a metal disc lying on the ground. He picked it up and tried to open it to see what was inside of it. In this he was unsuccessful, so he placed it upon a rock, seized another one, and threw it upon his newly-found plaything. The result was a loud detonation, and the boy and his baby sister were thrown to the ground. The disc proved to be a dynamite cap. Two fingers from the boy's hand were blown off. He was badly injured in the groin and was also burned. His sister was bruised about the head. Both will recover. The child's mother is unable to explain how the dynamite came to be in the yard.
